

make it all add up as a

COST ESTIMATOR

Cost estimators work for architectural or construction firms. Employers generally prefer college degrees related to construction management, engineering, architecture, math, or other disciplines as well as commercial construction experience. The average annual salary can easily be more than $65,000 per year.

Cost estimators compile and analyze costs for manufacturing and construction projects across various industries, including energy.

Learn more at:

WWW.WRKSOLUTIONS.COM/CAREEREXPLORATION

